THE PASSAGE Look for words that help you picture dolphins.

Dolphins

When a dolphin lifts its face from the water, it seems to be smiling at us. Dolphins look happy when they jump out of the water. They look very beautiful, too. Their smooth bodies shine in the sun.

Dolphins are playful. They play with people. They play with each other. They can blow bubble rings. Then they push the rings with their noses!

Some dolphins live in water parks. They learn how to do many tricks. They can jump through hoops. They can carry big balls on the tips of their noses. They can move on top of the water using their strong tails. People smile and clap.

Dolphins have helped us, too. They have pushed swimmers to shore or kept them safe from sharks. They have warned ships of danger.

We should help dolphins, too. We should try not to hurt dolphins with our boats. We should keep their ocean home clean.

STRATEGY PRACTICE Underline two sentences in the passage that help you to picture dolphins in your mind.

READ THE PASSAGE Look for words that help you picture the fish.Fish with Lights

Deep in the ocean, it is very dark. Not much sunlight can go that far down. The fish in this water make their own light. The lights are part of their bodies.

One kind of fish that makes light is the lanternfish. They are thin and small. Some are as short as a finger. The larger ones are as long as your arm.

Some lanternfish are blue, green, or silver. The ones in the deepest water are brown or black. A yellow, green, or blue light shines from along their sides.

Another fish that makes its own light is the anglerfish. The anglerfish is round like a ball. It is brown, gray, or black. Its mouth can open very wide, and its teeth are long and sharp.

The light on the anglerfish is blue-green. It grows out of its forehead and waves back and forth. The fish uses this light to get its food. Smaller fish swim to the light. Snap!

Fish with lights are one of the many wonders of our world.

READ THE PASSAGE Picture how the insects hide.Tricky Insects

See that leaf moving in the wind? Look again. It is an insect. It just looks like a leaf! Hungry birds do not know it is a bug. They do not try to eat it.

Some butterflies look like dried leaves. They rest with their wings together to match the real leaves around them. The colorful parts of their wings are hidden until they fly away.

Another bug that wears a costume is the stick insect. It looks like its name—a stick! This insect hides in the leaves and twigs of a tree. It can turn green or brown to match the colors around it. Some stick insects are tiny. Others are a foot long.

Insects are very clever. Maybe the next time you take a walk, you will see one pretending to be something else.

STRATEGY PRACTICE Draw to show.

This is what I think a stick insect looks like:

Under the Waves

Have you ever wondered how it feels to ride in a submarine? This kind of boat can go under the water. The captain makes it go left or right. He makes it go up and down. Some submarines can dive down to the bottom of the sea.

There are many kinds of submarines. Some are very big. Others are small. Some have tall windows for people to look through.

People who ride in submarines can see many beautiful things. They see bright coral with colors like jelly beans. They see tiny, shiny fish swimming around the coral. They see great sea animals like whales. They see sharks and eels.

It is safe inside the submarine. There is enough air for the people to breathe. The air is not too warm or too cold. The people inside have food to eat. Those who go on long trips even have places to sleep!
