

Good day all. I hope you have (had) a happy Thanksgiving with your family! Just as a reminder, while they were on my board all week, here were the pages for your HW from the Coachbook for the break Lesson 1 (Pages 5-15), including the ‘extended’ response question at the end. Also, there is a chart with verbals on pages 284 and 285 that I want you all to look over because there will be a quiz on those concepts so read it seriously!! If you need any refreshers on nouns, verbs, adjectives, or adverbs is, look it up!

Also, we are now up to page 65 in our readings and annotations. Use this time to catch up if you have fallen behind. We didn’t do the juxtaposition activity in class for my health. In fact, I gave you the answer to how Wiesel uses juxtaposition in Night. So, I hope we were taking that assignment seriously because I will be expecting an annotation related to that in your book.

Last reminder, if you didn’t turn in your chip chart, get a photo of it to me before next week. Otherwise, it will be considered late and you will lose 30% off your total grade. Be responsible.

Here is some optional practice for the quiz.

For each sentence, identify if there is a verbal present by marking Gerund (G), Participle (P), Infinitive (I), or None (N). If there is one, underline it. (Each letter is used at least twice.)

1. ____ My family really enjoys traveling.
2. ____ As I watched the movie, my beating heart felt like it might explode.
3. ____ I’m going to read in the car as we drive to Grandma’s house.
4. ____ The cross-country team was running really fast.
5. ____ I am going to study very hard for midterms.
6. ____ Although walking is fun, we are practicing full sprints today.
7. ____ Brenda, Edith, and Maude are funny but strange.
8. ____ The tired woman took the crying puppy outside at 3am.
9. ____ I can’t believe you are leaving the party to go home!
10. ____ Drinking soda is really bad for your health.
11. ____ Time was running out, so the student skipped the hard questions for later.
12. ____ I couldn’t decide if my yawning teammate was up for the challenge.

Those who enjoyed the lesson of the painting can see more iconic works below.

Here are some more paintings by Jacques-Louis David. Remember, paintings, like literature, often have deeper meanings than what we see on the surface

Napoleon (Bonaparte) Crossing the Alps

The Death of Socrates
