

For every chapter of the book, one person will start the discussion off by talking about any element of the chapter they would like.

You'll turn in a page containing:

- The quote/section you're talking about (with the page number)
- A paragraph of analysis (What you want to say about the passage)

Then you'll start the discussion off by talking about your passage for a couple of minutes.

(Example in "Plague Context and Assignments" powerpoint under Resources)