

For next time, you will read Act 3 of The Importance of Being Earnest.

The link to the text is posted under resources.

Read until the end of the play

(this act is about the length of half Act 2 so don't worry, it's not more reading than usual :))

Tips for reading the play:

- Act it out in your room! Could feel silly but can potentially be a fun way to follow along with the story.
- Read the stage directions - helps follow the action and helps us know what is literally happening. They are there to help the scene come to life.
- Use the context and discussions we've had thus far to set the tone for the play.
- You can always come to me with any questions
  - Don't be afraid to say you don't get something in class! Your classmates might have insight on a section that you didn't and vice versa.
- Happy reading :)
