

By now, you've done your planning sheet and you should have a rough draft after spending a day per each paragraph last week.

Then, you should have switched with a peer to get advice on what went well and what didn't. With those notes, you were supposed to enhance your essay and take any final questions to me.

Once all that has been done, you can upload your final essay here for a test grade :O