

Take a look at the artwork in the link below:

<https://artsandculture.google.com/entity/romanticism/m06hsk>

1. Find a painting from the Romantic movement and find an element from the movement in the painting - individualism, nature, the sublime, looking at another culture, melancholy, a focus on emotion. Include the painting you're talking about and what element of romanticism you've identified. Is there any similarity between the painting you're looking at and the poem we discussed?

<https://www.poetryfoundation.org/poems/44475/la-belle-dame-sans-merci-a-ballad?authuser=0>

2. Now, write your own ekphrastic poem (a poem that makes a story out of the painting you chose above)

Use at least two literary devices and identify them. Make your poem ten lines long at the very least. Tell me if it is lyrical or narrative. Highlight your element of romanticism in the poem as well, making sure to identify it.

Elements of Romanticism if you need a refresher:

https://www.readwritethink.org/sites/default/files/resources/lesson_images/lesson1142/CharacteristicsRomanticism.pdf?authuser=0