Guided Reading & Analysis, Unit 5 Begins

Reading Assignment:

Unit 5, divided into 12 subsections reflecting objectives for APUSH (corresponds to chapters 12-15 in 3rd edition)

(image captured from history.com)

Purpose:

This guide is not only a place to record notes as you read, but also to provide a place and structure for reflections and analysis using your noggin (thinking skills) with new knowledge gained from the reading.

Directions:

1. Pre-Read: Read the prompts/questions within this guide before you read the chapter.
2. Skim: Flip through the chapter and note titles and subtitles. Look at images and read captions. Get a feel for the content you are about to read.
3. Read/Analyze: Read the chapter. If you have your own copy of AMSCO, Highlight key events and people as you read. Remember, the goal is not to “fish” for a specific answer(s) to reading guide questions, but to consider questions in order to critically understand what you read!
4. Write Write (do not type) your notes and analysis in the spaces provided. Complete it in INK!

Key Concepts FOR PERIOD 5:

Key Concept 5.1: The United States became more connected with the world, pursued an expansionist foreign policy in the Western Hemisphere, and emerged as the destination for many migrants from other countries.

Key Concept 5.2: Intensified by expansion and deepening regional divisions, debates over slavery and other economic, cultural, and political issues led the nation into civil war.

Key Concept 5.3: The Union victory in the Civil War and the contested reconstruction of the South settled the issues of slavery and secession, but left unresolved many questions about the power of the federal government and citizenship rights.

The idea of manifest destiny fueled the continued American expansion westward. Americans from the time of the Puritans spoke of America as a community with a divine mission... and in the 1830s... this notion of “God’s Plan” developed into “Manifest Destiny.” Political leaders and Protestant missionary organizations fervently supported expansion. In 1845 Democratic newspaperman John O’Sullivan wrote that the most critical need for America was “...the fulfillment of our manifest destiny to overspread the continent allotted by Providence for the free development of our yearly multiplying millions.”

Topic 5.1 Contextualization, pp 260-261

As you read the contextualization, consider the skill you will be mastering as you analyze history. You want to be confident in describing a development or process, explaining how a development or process is situated within a broader historical context, and use a contextualization to set the scene in an LEQ or DBQ essay.

In the spaces provided, record you notes as you read in the left-hand column. Additional questions are presented in order to focus your attention to main ideas. When you have finished note-taking for this section, address the prompts in the right-hand column.

Learning Objective: Explain the context in which sectional conflict emerged from 1844 to 1877.

Repeated attempts at political compromise failed to calm tensions over slavery and often made sectional tensions worse, breaking down the trust between sectional leaders and culminating in the bitter election of 1860, followed by the secession of southern states.

The Compromise of 1850...

What was the most contentious aspect of this compromise? Explain and defend your answer.

← Before the Compromise of 1850

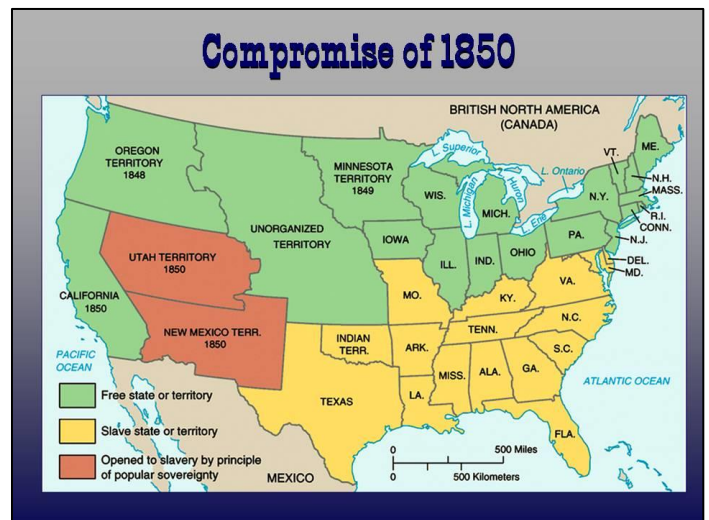

This compromise took several months to hammer out. One of the most famous speeches regarded this crisis:

“Peaceable secession! Peaceable secession! The concurrent agreement of all the members of this great republic to separate! A voluntary separation, with alimony on one side and on the other. Why, what would be the result? Where is the line to be drawn? What States are to seceded? What is to remain American? What am I to be? An American no longer?”

Am I to become a sectional man, a local man, a separatist, with no country in common with the gentlemen who sit around me here, or who fill the other house of Congress? Heaven forbid! Where is the flag of the republic to remain? Where is the eagle still to tower? Or is he to cower, and shrink, and fall to the ground? Why, Sir, our ancestors, our fathers and our grandfathers, those of them that are yet living amongst us with prolonged lives, would rebuke and reproach us; and our children and our grandchildren would cry out shame upon us, if we of this generation should dishonor these ensigns of the power of the government and the harmony of that Union which is every day felt among us with so much joy and gratitude.”

Key Concepts & Main Ideas	Notes	Analysis

Did you know... what an “Uncle Tom” is? Uncle Tom, the title character, was initially seen as a noble, long-suffering Christian slave. In more recent years, however, his name has become an epithet directed towards African-Americans who are accused of ‘selling out’ to whites. Stowe intended Tom to be a “noble hero and praiseworthy person.” Throughout the book, far from allowing himself to be exploited, Tom stands up for his beliefs and is grudgingly admired even by his enemies.

Key Concepts & Main Ideas	Notes	Analysis

Historical Perspectives: What Caused the Civil War?

Abraham Lincoln said, "I hope to have God on my side, but I must have Kentucky." What did he mean by this?

So many West Point graduates joined the Confederacy, the government contemplated shutting it down. (Of 1,108 U.S. Army officers in 1860, only 270 resigned to join the Confederate Army. Of those 270, however, 184 were West Point graduates and were mostly middle to upper commanders with military experience... most notably, Robert E. Lee.) Despite so many highly trained military leaders, they still ended up losing. Why do you think that was?

Of all of the perspectives for causation discussed at the end of the section, which one do you support the most? Explain why.

Address Delivered at the Dedication of the Cemetery at Gettysburg Abraham Lincoln November 19, 1863

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow -- this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us - - that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Topic 5.11, Reconstruction, pp 332-338

Learning Objective:

Explain how and why Reconstruction resulted in continuity and change in regional and national understandings of what it meant to be American.

Key Concepts & Main Ideas	Notes	Analysis
Southern plantation owners continued to own the majority of the region's land even after Reconstruction. Former slaves sought land ownership but generally fell short of self-sufficiency, as an exploitative and soil-intensive sharecropping system limited blacks' and poor whites' access to land in the South. Segregation, violence, Supreme Court decisions, and local political tactics progressively stripped away African American rights, but the 14th and 15th amendments eventually became the basis for court decisions upholding civil rights in the 20th century.	Introduction... Lincoln's Last Speech... Evaluating the Republican Record... Accomplishments... Failures... The End of Reconstruction... White Supremacy and the Ku Klux Klan... Southern Governments..... Black Codes... Sharecropping.....	Three days after Lincoln gave his speech at the White House, he and his wife attended a showing of Our American Cousin at Ford's Theater, without his bodyguard, whom Lincoln had sent on assignment out of town. During the play, John Wilkes Booth entered Lincoln's theater box and shot him in the head. Booth and his co-conspirators had originally plotted to kidnap Lincoln and ransom him for Confederate prisoners of war, after Grant refused to allow any further prisoner exchanges. However, as Booth understood that the Confederacy would lose the war, he changed his plan to an assassination in hopes that Lincoln's death would rally the Confederates to continue the war. The group also planned to kill several other high-level officials in the U.S. government, including Vice President Andrew Johnson. Only Booth achieved his goal, though one of his co-conspirators seriously wounded Secretary of State William Seward. Nathan Bedford Forest State Park in Tennessee has been under attack as a movement to change its name is underway. Support or refute the assertion that historical monuments and parks named after racists should be removed or renamed. Defend your view. To what extent was sharecropping an economic and social improvement for African American farm workers in the South? Defend your answer.

Radical Republicans' efforts to change southern racial attitudes and culture and establish a base for their party in the South ultimately failed, due both to determined southern resistance and to the North's waning resolve.	The Amnesty Act of 1872... The Election of 1876... The Compromise of 1877...	In his autobiography, U.S. Grant stated that his biggest regret was removing the military... that they pulled out too soon. Support or refute this viewpoint. Defend your answer!
