

Your planning sheet is not a binding agreement. If you do not find your initial idea tenable, you can always come to me and ask to change it. This is just to help you not leave things to the last minute.

Answer the below questions to help you plan out what your un-essay will look like:

1. Am I working in a group? If so, who with?
2. What text(s) will my project be dealing with?
3. What will be the nature of my project? (New book cover? Video essay? Playlist? etc?)
4. What themes in my chosen text do I hope to highlight with my project?
5. If I am working in a group, what will everyone's role be? If I am working solo, how do I plan to approach the project?
