Baby Birds Learn to Fly

1 I like to watch birds in the tall trees near my home. In the spring, many birds build nests in the branches. Soon, baby birds hatch from small eggs.

2 First, the mother bird gathers twigs, grass, and leaves. She builds a strong nest high in the tree. Then she lays her eggs inside the nest and keeps them warm.

3 After a few weeks, the eggs begin to hatch. Tiny baby birds pop out of their shells. The mother bird brings them food every day.

4 Soon the baby birds grow bigger and stronger. One day they stand at the edge of the nest. Finally, they flap their wings and fly into the sky!

1. What reason does the author give to show why the trees are important?
